

SOUTH LONDON GALLERY VISUAL STORY

Exploring the galleries

SLG

Arriving at the gallery

Parking at the gallery

Here is a parking space, in front of the gallery on Peckham Road.

Here are the timings for this parking space:

Outside of these times, there are also parking bays on Crofton Road or Talfourd Road, opposite the gallery.

Arriving at the gallery

Here is the entrance to the gallery:

If you use a wheelchair, there is a ramp next to the steps that you can use.

It's loud on Peckham Road, there is lots of traffic going by.

Inside the gallery

Here is the main corridor:

Inside the corridor, it's a lot quieter.
There's a bench that you can sit on.

The bookshop

This is the front desk:

The front desk is in the bookshop:

The front desk

This is the front desk:

You can ask the person at the front desk for help or information.

The lift

In the bookshop:

There is a lift in the bookshop you can use.

The lift takes you:

- down to the ground floor where you can go through the cafe to the main gallery
- up to the first floor galleries

The main gallery

This is the door to the main gallery space:

This is where you can see the artwork on display.

It is a quiet space.

It has colourful walls.

The main gallery space

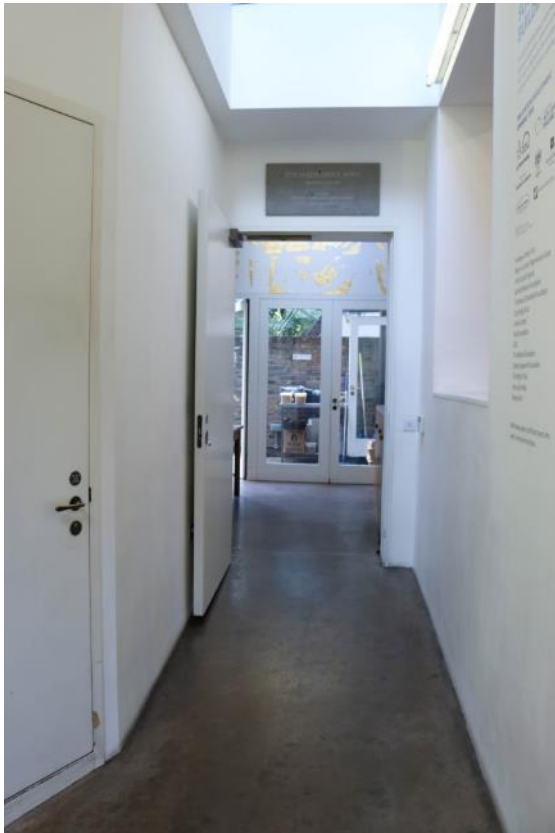

Accessible toilets

Go through the door on the left in the main gallery to find our accessible toilets

The link corridor

The link corridor:

This corridor links the gallery to the café, gardens and Clore studio.

The first floor galleries

Here are the stairs to the first floor galleries:

The stairs to the first floor galleries are in the café.

There is also a lift you can use.

Lift to the first floor galleries

Here is the lift:

To get to the first floor galleries, you can take the lift.

You can take the lift from:

- the café
- the bookshop

The Café

You can buy food and drink here.

It is a loud and noisy space. There are often lots of people in here.

There is also outdoor seating in the Fox Garden and to the right of the gallery entrance.

The first floor galleries

We are showing two films in the first floor galleries, these spaces are dark and loud.

You can ask someone for help or information.

Getting to the Clore studio

The door in the café:

This door take you out into the Fox garden, to get to the Clore studio space.

The Fox garden

The Fox garden:

The garden is often a quiet space. There are benches you can sit on.

The path leads you to the studio.

The Clore studio

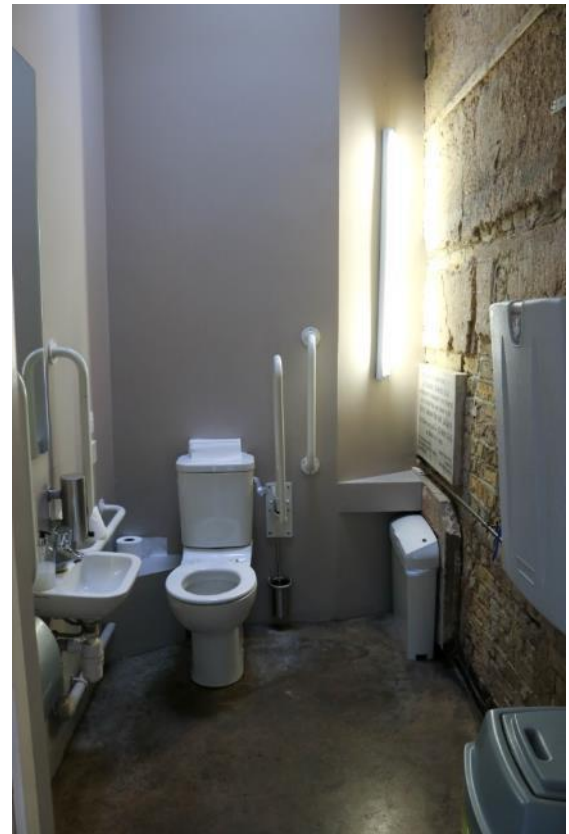

This is the door to the studio:

There are often activities that you can do in the studio. You can make something or play.

Clore studio toilets

There is a toilet next to the studio:

The Fox reception

This is the Fox reception:

This is the Fox reception.

On a weekend, you can ask for information or help here.

This is the way to the Orozco garden.

Gabriel Orozco Garden

This is the back garden:

This is a quiet space.

There are lots of different spaces, plants and textures to explore.

There are lots of spaces to sit.

Sceaux Gardens

To get to Sceaux Gardens estate go through the back gate in the Orozco Garden.

Art Block

Art Block is on the Sceaux Gardens estate, to get there go through the back gate in the Orozco Garden.

Follow the path between the trees and head towards the big tower block.

Art Block

Art Block is a place where you can make things and play. The space can be quite loud but there are lots of staff to help you. Art Block has a kitchen and an accessible toilet.

Get in touch

If you have any questions or need assistance with your visit please contact Clare Taylor on 020 7703 6120 or email your query to mail@southlondongallery.org and we'll do everything we can to make sure you have a positive experience at the SLG.